

New Organizing Institute

Greetings!

After nearly four years of training liberty-loving leaders and individuals across the country, The Voices Of America will take a sabbatical from politics as of March, 2013. In February we completed our travels with a four-day, presentation-tour of South Carolina. Our presentation, which was well received, can be viewed at the bottom of our "Approach" website tab.

Warren Edstrom and I founded The Voices Of America as a non-profit organization in early 2009 to benchmark the most effective methods to impact politics and policy and to make these methods available nationally as a service to leaders and individuals new to the political process. Since then, The Voices Of America website has experienced tens of thousands of page views per month and has become the highest Google-search result for relevant keyword searches. Our newsletter is subscribed to by thousands of leaders in forty-eight states who are interested in preserving American Exceptionalism. We have also traveled extensively throughout the United States and have given presentations to thousands of regional and state leaders, starting with our keynote address at the first National Tea Party Convention in Nashville, TN in February, 2010.

When we first started The Voices Of America website, we were the only comprehensive online source for training on precinct organizing and neighborhood advocacy. Even Democrats thanked us for creating the website, although we had to remind them that the mainstream "Silent Majority" has many more adherents than do Progressives. Our initial benchmarking research revealed an abundance of excellent Progressive organizing material dispersed across the Internet. It also revealed a dearth of this type of information for Conservatives. We captured these Progressive learnings on our website, and since then have added key learnings from many of the relevant books we have read.

Throughout this time Progressives lacked a central repository of information, until now! The Progressives' New Organizing Institute website was officially launched in late 2005 with just a handful of people. It has now grown into a well-funded and well-staffed organization out of Washington, DC. In fact, as a result of the 2008 Presidential election, the New Organizing Institute was able to recruit many young people who were newly-interested in politics and organizing. Harvard's Marshall Ganz is behind the New Organizing Institute and is the mastermind behind the featured organizing technique, elements of which are summarized in his Fall 2009 Ganz Organizing class notes. Ganz has been a key adviser to the Progressive campaigns since prior to the 2008 Presidential election. He is not only responsible for the messaging in the presidential campaigns, but with House Meetings in 2012, created the largest ground game ever amassed for an election.

The New Organizing Institute is now the nation's leading Progressive advocacy and campaign training website and it is quietly and forcefully redefining the way campaigns are run and social change happens. All content, much of which are videos, is free! The Voices of America strongly suggests that you take advantage of this free training and reverse-engineer it for your liberty-oriented movement. We list just some of the major, hot-linked training videos in the right-hand column of this newsletter.

Since its beginning, The Voices Of America has essentially been self-funded. Consequently, we are in no position to compete with the New Organizing Institute. While some might think that we missed an opportunity to create a similar organization and website for Conservatives, this was not "in-the-cards". Much of the available Conservative donor monies are controlled by the GOP and by many of the Conservative organizations such as Americans for Prosperity, American Majority, FreedomWorks, etc. All of these organizations have self-serving interests in growing their organizations, influence, and donor base. It has been a real disappointment that many of these organizations, while providing excellent grassroots training for which attendees usually pay a nominal fee, have not been willing to make all their training available for free on their websites.
